

Ramblers Worldwide Holidays 'Gets on its Bike'

Two of the most healthy and eco-friendly pursuits are combined in Ramblers Worldwide Holidays new 'Pedal & Walk' programme launched this April.

It is the ideal way of enjoying a trio of destinations in a relaxed and leisurely way, combining the best of walking and sightseeing with a few days to explore the surrounding countryside by bike.

These holidays include:

HOLLAND – featuring a week cycling and sightseeing from the historic city of Alkmaar, famed for its cheese market.

The terrain and infrastructure for cyclists is second to none with dedicated paths that meander through fields of flowers, ancient towns, dykes and canals. The holiday also includes a 'cycle-free' day in Amsterdam.

'Pedalling through the low country' – Price from £645 includes, half-board accommodation, use of bicycle and the services of a dedicated tour leader.

FRANCE – featuring a week walking, cycling and relaxing in glorious Auxerre, Burgundy.

Great for its network of canals and towpaths, wildlife en route, waterside cafes and bars, fields of flowers and vineyards.

'Pedalling through Burgundy' – Price from £799 includes return rail travel from London St Pancras via Eurostar/TGV, half board accommodation, use of bicycle and the services of a dedicated tour leader

GERMANY – featuring a week cycling and rambling in the Rhine Valley – famed for its spectacular castles and vineyards.

This ‘leisurely triathlon’ includes the loveliest stretch of the Rhine between Mainz and Koblenz plus a river boat trip with wonderful views of medieval castles, visits to ancient villages like, Eltville and Oestrich and a gentle pedal through the UNESCO World Heritage site of the ‘Upper Central Rhine Valley’.

The ‘base’ for this holiday is the lively town of Rüdesheim, famous for its Brandy and Riesling wines.

Price from £769 includes return flights, half-board accommodation, use of bicycle and the services of a dedicated tour leader.
